It stayed that way for about six months; then I got a set of the Cuticura Remedies, and in about a week I noticed a big difference, and in three weeks it was well entirely and I have not had the trouble any more, and as this was seven years ago, I consider myself cured. RAILWAY COMPANY URDERS MILLION TIES

Lunenburg Lumber Company Has Three Hundred Men Executing Work.

Executing Work.

MENERRIN, VA., Feb. 16.—The largest the contract ever given out in this County was executed only a few weeks ago by the Tidewater Railroad Co. to the Lunenburg Lumber Company, which it is claimed call for ties to be delivered on its right of way until the million mark has nearly been reached.

This company is in good position to put out cross-ties the entire year with a force of employees reaching about three hundred. It is estimated that a good man can complete twenty ties per day, and with a force of from two to three hundred men each working day, would give this company an output of from four to six thousand use per day.

There will be an ample supply of these goods to run the entire inte through the entire county also that of Brunswick Prince Edward and a part of Charlotte, with a goody share left to keep the line in repair.

This company owns about nine thousand acres of original growth timber within the borders of the county, and the best portion of it lay along the Tidewater Railroad, from the Prince Edward idde to that of Brunswick and contains the best tie timber to be found anywhere in this section of the State. They have numerous camps located along this line and various saw mills, gituated almost directly on the right of way, cutting and sawing ties as fast as possible in order to have them ready for the road when they reach them laying track.

A large portion of these ties are gotton out by contract with various contractors from the adjoining counties, who bring in large forces of laborers, teams and supplies and locate along the line of the road in camps, and from these places direct the work. The pay rolls of these various contractors run up to many thousand dollars per month, as almost every laborer draws his dollar and fifty cents per day, and as a result of this the merchants in this section are having a large increase of business.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
HOUSTON, VA., February 15.—The announcement of the death of Captain
Henry Edmunds will bring sadness to many hearts, not only in Hallfax, his native county, but all over the State. Ho was probably the oldest captain in the Confederate service, volunteering at the beginning of hostilities, and serving with great bravery and gallanty until the close of the war. He commanded a close of the war. He commanded a company from Halfax county, which was in large part, if not entirely, clothed and equipped by his father, Hon. John R. Edmunds.

Edmunds.

At the close of the war Mr. Edmunds sent his son, the captain, abroad to spend a year in travel, and was greatly surprised at learning that after a stay in Europe of only a few months he had matriculated at the University of Virginia to study law.

Graduated With Honor.

Captain Edmunds took high rank in the law class and graduated with distinction, being regarded as one of the best men in a class unusually strong.

For nearly two-score years he had been among the leaders of the Hallfax bar, one of the ablest in the State, and was by long odds the most popular man in the county. Although repeatedly urged to do so, he never stood for public office, except a seat in the House of Delegates. As a member of that body he made great distinction, and as a member of the Finance Committee and the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform, rendered the State valuable service. Although declining office, he always took an active interest in public affairs, and being one of the ablest and most attractive speakers in the county, was often called on to make political and other addresses before the people. Graduated With Honor.

Trouble at Vaughan's Camp Might Have Been Serious But for Prompt Measures.

for Prompt Measures.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]

LYNGHBURC, VA., February 15.—J.

L. Vaughan, of the Vaughan Construction Company, who is engaged in double-tracking the Norfolk and Western twenty miles west of Lynchburg, late this afternoon denied the report of, a race war in the camp last night. No one was killed, as reported, although one man, a foreigner, was shot in the hand and a number were injured in a fist fight which followed the shooting. All of the men engaged in the row, twenty-five in number, were discharged. These are nearly all Americans, and the number includes a superintendent. The trouble seems to have been started by the importation of a lot of foreign laborers, to whom the native employes objected.

Mr. Vaughan admitted that there might have been serious trouble in the camp if it had not been stopped quickly and effectively. Several Baldwin detectives were there to-day to preserve order and up to nightfall there had been no disorder during the day. It is not thought there will be further trouble.

Newspaper Tributes.

On the demise of the late Henry Clay Payne, a concern in New York gathered from the papers published throughout the United States 4,685 newspaper stories of the life and career of the deceased.

These items were carefully mounted on Irish linen leaves and bound in 6 volumes, 400 pages to the book. A cover of genuine seal was appropriately lettered in gold and the entire material, representing the work of many people for several months, has just been delivered to Mrs. Payne at Milwaukee.

Mr. Burrelle, who makes a specialty of this unique method of preserving family history, also compiled four volumes containing the letters, telegrams and cards of condolence received by the family, all constituting a family heirloom that will be handed down to future genera-

Cowpeas

The increasing demand for all kinds of Cowneas with each season demonstrates the important value of this commodity to farmer. Practical experience in various sections shows their utility, and preference is given over commercial fartilizers because they are ecomonical and more satisfactory. In addition to this, their use as a forage crop is almost doubling itself with each year, until the demand has grown to be larger than the supply.

Soy Beans

The prollic growth of these Beans makes them very desirable seed for a forage crop, and their popularity is increasing every year. They are also valuable in mixing with Cowneas on account of their tall and atout growth, which serves to held up the Cowneas while growing, and they are being largely used for this purpose.

During the past season the weather conditions were exceedingly unfavorable, and destroyed a large per cent, of the crop of both Cowneas and Soy Beans, but with our large facilities we have been enabled to secure a fairly good
